To: State and Chapter Eagle Scout Scholarship Chairmen

Your responsibility as chairman of your state or chapter Sons of the American Revolution Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program is most important and your willingness to assume the responsibility is commendable. You play a vital role in coordinating the overall program, in selecting the scholarship winner for your state each year, and in boosting awareness of the SAR in your community and state.

This Administrative Guide is designed as a tool for you to use in carrying out your responsibility. Materials that you need for a successful SAR Eagle Scout Program are included: guidelines, suggestions, and examples. Copy the information as needed and use it to promote the program. Remember too that the NSSAR website www.sar.org is available for downloading application forms and other useful information about the program. Please keep in mind that this is a chapter program of selection that is further refined at the state level and finalized at the national level. The initial recognition through letters and certificates is the place where we affect the most young men in a positive way.

Through NSSAR's Eagle Scout Program, we have an opportunity to recognize and reward achievements of outstanding young Americans, future leaders of our nation and potential compatriots of the SAR. The Eagle Scout brochures go into the homes of thousands of Eagle Scouts each year, generating positive publicity and becoming a powerful public relations and recruiting tool. Inquiries about membership in SAR often result from this contact with the Eagle Scout family. Recognition of the Eagles at the local level is a significant chapter program in and of itself, culminating in the generous scholarships which keep the program meaningful at the national level of both the Scouts and the SAR.

Your service to the Sons of the American Revolution and to the Boy Scouts of America is greatly appreciated.

Patriotically,

T. Rex Legler II, O.D.

“Introduction”

The Sons of the American Revolution Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program recognizes the outstanding accomplishments of the Boy Scouts of America in training America’s youth and promoting good citizenship. Each year, the Program provides an opportunity for SAR to recognize outstanding Eagle Scouts all across America. The Program’s goal is to recognize every Eagle Scout’s achievement in attaining the highest rank in the Boy Scouts of America and to invite each to compete for the recognition as the Outstanding Eagle Scout of a SAR chapter or state society and for $14,000 in scholarships from our national society.

In completing the NSSAR Eagle Scout Scholarship Application, Eagle Scouts rediscover the greatness of America’s founding in the composition of a 500-word patriotic theme. In the completion of a four-generation ancestor chart, many Eagle Scouts also discover their lineage to patriots of the American Revolution – opening the door to their membership in the SAR. What a proud day for an Eagle Scout to receive both the SAR Eagle Scout Medal and SAR Membership Rosette.

The original Administrative Guide was developed by a professional scouter with scouters in mind. Its brevity acknowledged seasoned scouts were administering the program. However, since Eagle Scouts are universally admired, many compatriots with no scouting background want to lead our chapter and state programs and have the opportunity to recognize these outstanding young patriots.

This newly revised Administrative Guide attempts to bridge the gap of knowledge between those with a lifetime of scouting experience and those with none. It follows the Eagle Scout Handbook “William Allerton III”.

In the following pages you will find everything you need to administer a successful Eagle Scout Program for your chapter or state. A most important addition is a BSA Council Locator which will enable you to establish contact with the BSA Scout Executive in your community. This guide incorporates the ground-breaking efforts of former NSSAR Eagle Scout Chairman Robert E. Burt with Compatriot Allerton’s experience as a seasoned scout – including service as a District Chairman, Council Commissioner, and member of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America – and, most importantly, as a proud father of two Eagle Scouts.

While this Guide incorporates the knowledge of those devoted to SAR and BSA, it is by no means complete; it is a work in progress. As such, you are invited to write its author at compatriot76@hotmail.com or to the SAR National Headquarters with your comments and suggestions for improvement. This Guide is dedicated to all who contribute to the success of the NSSAR Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program.

Vice Chairman

“Partnership”

Boy Scouts of America and Sons of the American Revolution

Promoting Patriotism, Honoring Patriots

The SAR was chartered by an Act of the United States Congress in 1906 “to perpetuate the memory of the men who, by their services or sacrifices during the American Revolution, achieved the independence of the American people” and “to foster true patriotism.” Its charter was signed by President Theodore Roosevelt, a distinguished member of the SAR.

The Boy Scouts of America was chartered by Congress in 1916 “to promote the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others” and “to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred values.” Since its inception, Scouting has taught over 110 million youth its lessons of patriotism, courage and self-reliance.

For nearly a century, SAR has enjoyed a close working relationship with the Boy Scouts of America, actively supporting Scouting programs that build character and good citizens. President Theodore Roosevelt, a distinguished SAR member and ardent supporter of the Scouting movement, earned the distinction of being the first and only man designated as the “Chief Scout Citizen.” In 1980, the SAR’s ties to Scouting were further strengthened with the establishment of its Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program.

For over 25 years, SAR’s partnership with BSA has actively promoted patriotism and honored young patriots in communities across America. The NSSAR Arthur M. and Berdena King Eagle Scout Scholarship and Awards Program has awarded Over $200,000 in scholarships to outstanding Eagle Scouts. Hundreds of deserving Eagle Scouts have been honored by SAR chapters and state societies with cash awards, medals, trophies and certificates.

This partnership has brought SAR brochures into the homes of over 50,000 scouts who advance to the rank of Eagle each year, resulting in numerous inquiries about SAR membership. Through the recognition of young patriots in the ranks of the Boy Scouts of America we add to the ranks of the Sons of the American Revolution. And, together we can promote a renewed spirit of patriotism and preserve our cherished American heritage.

“Relationships”

Boy Scouts of America and Sons of the American Revolution

Cultivating Cooperation, Maintaining Momentum

Much of the success of Scouting can be attributed to the involvement of dedicated parents. Last count, there were over 1.2 million adult volunteers registered with the Boy Scouts of America. They're leaders of dens, packs, troops, posts, districts and councils. Training all of these volunteers, keeping them motivated, and to ensure that they remain faithful to BSA ideals requires a staff of dedicated Scouting professionals.

The Scouting program is developed by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America and delivered through local Councils. Most states have BSA Councils in every metropolitan area. These Councils are led by a BSA professional - the Scout Executive - and dedicated volunteers elected to the Council's Executive Board. Councils are subdivided into districts and led by a staff professional - the District Executive - and dedicated volunteers elected to the District Committee.

The success of our SAR Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program depends on cultivating relationships with these Scouting professionals and volunteers. It is essential that you develop a good working relationship with the Council Scout Executive. And, it would be very helpful to get acquainted with your Council's District Executives and Scoutmasters.

The Scout Executive can supply all the information you need to recognize every new Eagle Scout in your community: the number of potential Eagle Scouts - to order brochures; the names of Eagle Scouts - to address letters /certificates; and the dates of Eagle Courts of Honor - to present letters /certificates. The District Executives meet monthly with Scoutmasters and troop leaders at Roundtable and District Committee meetings. They can spread the word about the SAR Eagle Scout Competition. Scoutmasters meet weekly with the boys and can encourage their Eagle Scouts to participate in the SAR Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program.

However, no one can spread the word about the SAR Eagle Scout Program better than you. Don't miss an opportunity to promote our program at a Roundtable meeting or Eagle Court of Honor. A great way to promote SAR and help BSA is to volunteer as a Merit Badge Counselor. Since our competition scores extra points for applicants who've earned the American Heritage, Genealogy and Law merit badges, you can give the Scouts in your Council a competitive edge by helping them earn these important badges.

Cooperation requires cultivating the right relationships and momentum requires maintaining them. This will always be a challenge. People come and go in both of our organizations. The key is to maintain contact.

“Guidelines”

Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program

Recognizing Accomplishments, Honoring Patriots

The NSSAR Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program recognizes the outstanding accomplishments of Eagle Scouts at three levels: Chapter, State and National. Here are the easy steps for SAR Chapters and State Society participation in the Program:

Eagle Scout Recognition

1. The Chapter President appoints a Chapter Eagle Scout Committee. The Chairman of the Eagle Scout Committee contacts the Scout Executive of the BSA Council. If several SAR Chapters are in one BSA Council, the chapters make arrangements with the state chairman as to which district each chapter sponsors. The chairmen discuss with the Scout Executive the SAR Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program and agree on procedures to make the program effective.
2. The objective is to send to every Eagle Scout a SAR Eagle Scout brochure with the chapter or state chairman's contact information. The brochure, a certificate of recognition, and a congratulatory letter can be sent through the mail or delivered by SAR members to Eagle Courts of Honor. They can be delivered throughout the year upon request or they can all be delivered at one time. Any procedure agreed to by the SAR chapter and the Scout Executive is acceptable, remembering that the goal is to get the recognition and scholarship material to each Eagle Scout.
3. Should the Eagle Scout want an application and four-generation chart, he may download them from our web page www.sar.org or you may photocopy the forms to distribute.
4. The Chapter Eagle Scout Chairman requests from the State Society Eagle Scout chairman enough brochures (NSSAR Eagle Scout Pamphlet) to provide one to each Eagle Scout based on an estimate by the Scout Executive of the number of Eagle Scouts in the BSA council. Brochures are available from NSSAR Merchandise (Stock #ES-F). You may also download the brochure available on the Eagle Scout Committee Web page.
5. Any currently registered Eagle Scout, in an active unit who has not reached his 19th birthday in the calendar year of his application is eligible to apply for the SAR scholarship. Each of these Eagle Scouts should receive a chapter congratulatory letter signed by the State Society President or Chapter President, a certificate of recognition, and a brochure relative to applying for the SAR scholarship. The letter should include the date by which the application must be submitted and the name and address of the person to whom it should be sent.

6. The certificates of recognition are available from NSSAR Merchandise (Stock #ES-0412 or ES-0411).
7. As a part of this guide, you will find a camera-ready copy of the scholarship application (Form C) and four-generation ancestor chart (Form D). These may also be downloaded from the SAR web page.
8. Chapter Chairmen should follow up with the Eagle Scouts to whom they have sent congratulatory letters and brochures and offer assistance as necessary to assure that they complete and submit their scholarship applications. Assistance may be needed to complete the four-generation ancestor chart and/or to write the 500-word theme.

Chapter Eagle Scout Competition

9. No later than a date set by the State Society Eagle Scout Chairman (usually 31 December), the Chapter Eagle Scout Committee reviews the entries, using the Score Sheet and Criteria for Judging (make your copies from FORM E, a part of this Guide), and selects a chapter winner.
10. Each chapter winner should be presented the Eagle Scout Chapter Winner's medal by his sponsoring chapter. When practicable, this presentation should be made at a chapter meeting with the Eagle Scout, his scoutmaster, and his parents as guests of the chapter. All Eagles who submitted scholarship applications should receive from the local chapter the Eagle Scout patch (NSSAR Merchandise Stock #ES-P).
11. Optional: Following the award presentation, a news release and photograph of the chapter's award presentation can be sent to the local newspapers for publication. Don't forget to submit photos and articles to the SAR and BSA for their newsletters and websites. A sample news release is provided within this guide to assist with the publication of your Eagle Scout award presentation.
12. Optional: In further recognition, you can ask your mayor to issue a proclamation honoring your chapter's Eagle Scout winner and the SAR's Eagle Scout Program or ask the Eagle's city councilmember to pass a resolution. A sample resolution is included in this guide.

State Eagle Scout Competition

13. The Chapter Eagle Scout Chairman sends the chapter winner's scholarship application, four-generation ancestor chart, and the 500 word patriotic theme to the State Society Eagle Scout Chairman not later than the prescribed date (we recommend 15 January).

14. The State Eagle Scout Committee will select a state winner, using FORM E, from among the entries forwarded by chapters. This selection is usually made prior to 01 February in order for the state winner's application to be received by the National Chairman No later than 15 February for national judging at the Spring Leadership Conference.
15. The State Society winner should be given appropriate recognition at a meeting of the State Society, including presentation of the coveted SAR Eagle Scout Trophy, available from NSSAR (Stock #ES-T), the cost borne by the state society, and any monetary award offered by the State Society. The State runner-up should receive his recognition and any financial award (if offered) at the chapter level.
16. Optional: Following the state award presentation, a news release and photograph of the award presentation can be sent to the local newspapers for publication. Don't forget to submit a photo and news release to the SAR and BSA for their newsletters and websites.
17. Optional: In further recognition, you can ask your governor to honor your Eagle Scout and your State SAR Eagle Scout Program with a proclamation or ask the Eagle's state legislator to introduce a resolution in your state legislature or assembly. A sample resolution is included in this guide.

National Eagle Scout Competition

18. The State Society Eagle Scout Chairman forwards the state winner's application and supporting papers to the National Chairman of the NSSAR Eagle Scout Committee to be received on or before 15 February.
19. The National Eagle Scout Committee, using FORM E, will select the winner of the $8,000 scholarship and the $4,000 and $2,000 runners-up scholarships.

20. The $8,000 scholarship will be presented at the annual congress; the $4,000 and $2,000 scholarships will be presented by the state society, usually at their annual awards banquet.

Eagle Scout Chairman's Remarks at the Chapter Presentation of the SAR Eagle Scout Medal

For over one hundred years, SAR has honored our nation's founders by promoting good citizenship and an appreciation of our cherished heritage. Since 1910, the Boy Scouts of America has supported our mission with over 110 million young people learning Scouting's lessons of patriotism, courage and self-reliance. For generations of Americans, the Scout Law has been a moral compass pointing the way to be Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful, Thrifty, Brave, Clean and Reverent.

It's not surprising that yesterday's scouts are today's leaders in business, government, the media, science, medicine, entertainment, and the list goes on and on. To further illustrate my point, will all former Boy Scouts present please rise to be recognized.

The trail from Tenderfoot to Eagle Scout requires years of preparation and perseverance. Only about four percent of all Boy Scouts reach Scouting's summit with more than one million Boy Scouts advancing to the rank of Eagle Scout since 1911. Eagle Scouts have gone on to become leaders in all fields. Notables include President Gerald Ford, Astronaut Neil Armstrong, Journalist Walter Cronkite, Academy Award-winning director Steven Spielberg and Louisiana Governor Mike Foster. To show you how Eagle Scouts help shape America, will all Eagle Scouts present please rise to be recognized.

The George Washington Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution is proud to recognize the accomplishments of Scouting's elite and participate in the SAR Eagle Scout Recognition and Scholarship Program. Last year, our chapter received applications from Eagle Scouts throughout the 11 parishes of the Southeast Louisiana Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The SAR award program is based on an application detailing Scouting experience, academic achievement, and community service; a 500-word essay on a patriotic theme; and a four-generation genealogy chart. The applications are scored on a 100-point scale. The Scout with the highest score is honored with our Chapter's Eagle Scout Award and entered into our State Society's competition. The winner of each State competition vies in the national SAR Eagle Scout competition for $14,000 in scholarship awards.

As Eagle Scout Chairman for the George Washington Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, it is my great honor to announce the winner of our 2004 SAR Eagle Scout Award – Eagle Scout Connor E. Borchert.

We are honored to have with us tonight Connor's parents, Eddy and Christine Borchert, and his brother, Eagle Scout Carson Borchert. Would the Borchert family please rise that we may recognize you?

In addition to earning the highest rank in the Boy Scouts of America, Connor has earned 40 Merit Badges, including Genealogy, and three Eagle Scout Palms.

His Eagle Scout Project provided over 200 hours of combined scout and adult efforts to restore and beautify two community buildings in St. John the Baptist Parish, the Health Center and Local Workforce Investment Area. His community service also includes serving as a counselor at KidCam Camp, advisor to the All American Soap Box Derby, and various ministries at St. Joan the Arc Catholic Church and Jesuit High School.

Connor is a sophomore at Jesuit High School in New Orleans and enrolled in Jesuit's Honors Program. Connor is currently studying Honors Latin, Honors Greek, Honors English, and Honors Algebra. Cub Scouting

Purpose

The Boy Scouts of America created Cub Scouting in 1930 to help advance the character development and spiritual growth of young boys. For boys in first through fifth grade, this central mission of Cub Scouting may be even more important growing up in the 2000s than it was for the first Cub Scouts more than 75 years ago.

Program

Local Cub Scouting activities involve the parents, adult leaders, and friends of Cub Scouts in home-centered programs that teach life skills, habits, values, and attitudes consistent with the interests of their church and community. Millions of boys and their families participate in Cub Scouting, the largest of the three Boy Scouts of America membership divisions.

Methods

Cub Scouting encourages each boy to strive for his personal best, a lesson that will help him achieve success as he enters Boy Scouting - and throughout his adult life. Cub Scout activities encourage character development, physical coordination, family unity, and enthusiasm for learning. Cub Scouting helps boys develop a sense of teamwork, achievement, self-confidence, and respect for others. Learning to master new skills helps the Cub Scout realize his own abilities and discover that his can-do attitude is the first sign of success in any endeavor.

Boy Scouting

Purpose

Boy Scouting encourages boys ages 11 through 18 to develop physical, mental, and emotional fitness and to adopt and live by meaningful personal standards as a cornerstone for success in life. These values include the basic principles in the Scout Oath and Law.

Program

Boy Scouts learn to develop personal strengths by example and through hands-on experience. Activities include fitness and leadership training, wilderness adventures, and merit badge incentives for boys mastering hobby and career skills. Scouting encourages boys to expand and test their personal initiative, courage, and resourcefulness.

Methods

Boy Scouts learn some of life's more serious lessons while having fun. Boys learn about important values, such as helping yourself by helping others, and honoring the basic rights of others. Boy Scouting's active learning experiences include hiking, camping, and other outdoor expeditions; competitive individual and team sports activities; and community or religious service projects. Many Boy Scouts first practice basic leadership, self-government, and citizenship skills during regular troop campouts and meetings.

Venturing

Venturing is an effective coed young-adult program designed to improve character, citizenship, and fitness. Venturers exercise leadership, citizenship, fitness, social, outdoor, and community service endeavors. Venturing provides a variety of challenging activities to teach young people 13 - 20 the real world meaning of values, ethical decision making, and life skills. Venturing teaches leadership and problem solving skills to help youths mature into confident, successful adults. Venturing crews organize around a special vocation or interest of the youth members. The specialty clusters include outdoors, sports, art/hobbies, youth ministry, Exploring Post and Sea Scouting.

SAR members contribute to Scouting activities by teaching relevant merit badges, such as American Heritage, Genealogy, Law, Citizenship in the Community, Citizenship in the Nation, and Citizenship in the World.

“More and more I have grown to believe in the Boy Scout movement. I regard it as one of the movements most full of promise for the future here in America. The Boy Scout movement is distinctly an asset to our country for the development of efficiency, virility, and good citizenship.”

Theodore Roosevelt
Chief Scout Citizen

“The goodness of a person and of the society he or she lives in often comes down to very simple things and words found in the Scout Law. Every society depends on trust and loyalty, on courtesy and kindness, on bravery and reverence. These are the values of Scouting, and these are the values of Americans.”

President George W. Bush
